Bottom Left to Right: Jiana Escobar (Cal Poly San Luis Obispo) and Megan Crudup (University of Arkansas)

President Tyler Bowser: "Being an NACT officer has opened many doors and helped me create lasting friendships with the officers and other students from across the nation."

First Vice President Jessica England: "Being a national ACT officer has helped me learn about myself and have the opportunity to work and become friends with five other amazing individuals. It has definitely been one of the best decisions of my life to become a part of this organization for young professional and be able to be a national officer."

Second Vice President Jiana Escobar: "Through this organization I have opened my eyes to the opportunities in communications. I have also gained a greater appreciation for agriculture and the people work to help promote it."

Secretary/Treasurer Megan Crudup: "The most valuable thing that I am taking away from my time as an NACT officer is the networking opportunities I have been able to have. I am proud to have been able to help this organization continue to grow. There are countless opportunities through this amazing organization!"

Editor Corey Duysen: "I truly enjoyed the networking aspect of being a national officer. It is amazing who you will meet and the friends you will make in just one year!"
